

THE FREE FRIDAY PATTERN

YARN: TWEED BY BORGO DE' PAZZI

Ingrid COWL

by Esther Lara, @nosolopunto

The Ingrid cowl is a garment especially suitable for people who need to warm their neck but do not like wearing something too thick. It has been knitted with worsted/DK yarn and you can finish it in a couple of days more or less. It is perfect as a gift. The one on the cover photo has been made with Borgo de Pazzi's Tweed yarn (color 103), whose composition is 50% wool, 35% polyamide and 15% silk. For this pattern it is advisable to use a yarn that meets two conditions: that it does not have too much hair to highlight the cables and that does not make color variations because there would be too much decoration and the cables would fade. The pattern offers you two possibilities: you can knit the cowl in the round or flat adding a flap with buttons so you will not have to go through your head to wear it. I hope you like my design and enjoy knitting it as much as I did. If so, I would love you to share it on social media by tagging me as @nosolopunto and/or typing the hashtag #cuelloingrid or #ingridcowl; @borgodepazzi, #borgodepazzitweed, #italianyarnstudio for the yarn. I thank you for buying my pattern and wanting to share it. If you have any problems, do not hesitate in contact me via my email nosolopunto@gmail.com. I will get back to you as soon as possible.

INSTRUCTIONS:

Making the cowl in the round, seamless:

On the smaller needle, cast on 128 st (I used the German twisted cast on), place a BOR marker and work in the round in 2 x 2 twisted ribbing for 10 rounds. You can also make a common ribbing, without twisting stitches if you wish. Then, switch to larger needles and work the chart by repeating the motif 8 times on each round (you have the legend below). You can place markers between motifs if you need it. When you are done knitting the graphic, switch back to the smaller needle, work 10 rounds of 2 x 2 twisted ribbing, and bind off stretchy. In this video I show you how I made it:

Making the cowl with vertical opening with buttons (knitted flat)

Flat - Chart

This time, the cowl making is somewhat different from the previous version. On the smaller needle, cast on 122 stitches (I used the German twisted cast on) and work in 2 x 2 twisting ribbing for 10 rows. You can also knit the ribbing without twisting if you wish. Since the cowl is flat knitting, you should remember that on the "wrong side" you will have to twist the purls.

Then, switch to larger needles and work the chart (you have the legend below). In this case, you must start the first part of the chart to the blue line, repeat the pattern between lines up to 7 times and finish the final part of the chart. I explain it better in the legend.

- Row 1: p1, k2, p4, *k12, p4*, repeat from * to * 6 times more (7 times in total), k2, p1
- Even rows: work as you see
- Row 3: p1, k2, p4, *2/2RC, k4, 2/2LC, p4*, repeat from * to * 6 times more (7 times in total), k2, p1

- Rows 48, 49 and 50: work as you see

When you are done row 50, switch back to smaller needles and repeat the ribbing you made below and bind off stretchy. I remind you of the link to the video I put in earlier:

CÓMO CERRAR UNA LABOR DE MANERA ELÁSTICA - YouTube

Now it is time to pick up the stitches on the edges. Keep in mind that it must be an even number of points. I have had 44 stitches, worked in 2 x 2 ribbing for 10 rows, and binded off. Make sure the two sides have the same number of stitches. On one side, you will have to make the buttonholes. To do this, you will have to work 2 stitches together and make a yarn over to knit it on the following row. I put 3 buttonholes on row 5 of the ribbing at stitches 5, 21 and 39. Then I continued working until row 10 and closed.

*Finish, block, sew the buttons and you will have got your Ingrid Cowl ready!
